

Welcome

Hannaford, a small, but active community, is located in the heart of east-central North Dakota along the Bald Hill Creek.

Our citizens have a determined spirit to keep us a growing and prosperous community. So take a look around and see for yourself!

Focused Future ...

In 2009, the City of Hannaford looked to the future with new optimism and determination to keep the city thriving. Work was completed on new sewer lines and pavement of existing roadways, and new sidewalks, streetlights and banners were added with the renovation of Main Street.

The Hannaford Community and Business Center is also undergoing renovations. The business wing of the Center is being remodeled to house many potential new businesses.

Central Plains Ag Services made Hannaford their home with a new 25,000 ton capacity fertilizer plant.

The City of Hannaford looks to their past for inspiration and to the future with a determined spirit. Stop in for a visit or consider making it your home!

Proven Past ...

Hannaford has a rich history of progress and proud heritage. Security State Bank was started in Hannaford in 1927 and now boasts 13 banks in North Dakota and Minnesota. The name has been changed to Bank Forward but the original Security State Bank building is still standing proud on the Main Street of Hannaford.

Stri-King Lanes was started in 1960 with an idea and some interested shareholders. It is still going strong today and now hosts a terrific café, youth and adult bowling leagues and is home to the Griggs County Central High School bowling team.

Hannaford was established in 1906 and is best known for erecting the first ski jump in the state in 1920.
